STANDING OF CONTESTANTS

Some Swapping of Positions Noticed-Misses Martin and Gordon Leading.

With the mercury standing approximately at the 100-degree mark and the general public sweltering under a blistering sun, doubtless little thought was given to the woes of the Outing Tours Department of The Times-Dispatch, oxcept by the young ladies directly interested. Between the hours of 3 A. M. and noon yesterday, to give an idea of the amount of work necessary to get out the following report, no less than $10,000 works and, had we counted between those hours, and, had we counted everything that came after 12 o'clock, the figures would easily have mounted over the 100,000 mark—almost as high as the temperature, but not quite. This is, of course, only figuratively speaking.

There is one regulation in the competition that some of the contestants seemed to have overlooked—that is, that for the bertificates given for new and renewal subscriptions to count they must be deposited in the office just the same as the coupons cut from the paper. It is very necessary for this regulation to be notted, for some of the contestants will be saily disappointed if they think these certificates as the subscriptions/are sont in.

The notes last week bore fruit to the extent of three new contestants in the State division of the contest. There is, however, not much difference in the positions, the Misses Bouthall sasily maintain first place. There is still room for many more in this part of the contest, but need not much time to get going. The principal change in the positions the city competition is the passing of a former leaders by the Misses H. Partin and S. The Formal Order.

The formal order entered by the Corporation Commission is as follows:

Richmond, June 30, 1994.

Mr. Joseph Button this day appeared before the commission and tendered to the commission for its approval a bond in the penalty of $10,000, with the Virginia Trust Company as surety, executed by him for the faithful performance of his duties as commissioner of insurance under the provisions of an act of the General Assembly, approved March $1,990, and requested the commission to fix the form of and to approve shald bond, and further requested that the commission administer to him the oaths required by said statute to be taken by him before the commission, in order that he might be dily qualified to act as commissioner of insurance according to the requirements of said statute, it being shown to the commission that he had been elected to said nosition or office by the votes of both houses of the General Assembly of Virginia. And the commission having duly considered the matter, is of opinion that it is constrained to decline to act upon said bond, and to administer said eaths, and declined to take any action in these matters at this time. And the commission admission actives the mitter as a commission and matter as the oaths, and declined to take any action in these matters at this time. And the commission addivered to him and which being now spread upon the minutes is in the words and figures following, 1/2.

Bisto Corporation Commission.

June 30, 1906.

Mr. Joseph Button, Richmone Va:

Dear Sir.—The last General Assembly passed an act providing at considerable length for the establishment of a Bureau of Insurance in Virginia, with a Commission of the Riche Corporation Commission.

This act was approved March 9, 1906, and is now to be found on paye 120 of the Acts of the General Assembly for 1906.

The first three sections of this act are in the following language, vis:

"1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, as follows: That, as bureau of insurance be, and the same is hereby, established, within the department and subject to the supervision and control of the State Corporation Commission, which bureau shall be charged with the execution, under the supervision and control of the sald commission, of all laws now in force, or which may be hereafter enacted, relative to insurance, and to insurance, guaranty, trust, indemnity, fidelity and security companies and associations, of every character and nature, and fraternal and other beneficiary orders and societies; and all such companies, associations, societies and orders, domestic, foreign and all such companies, acting or to be admitted to transact business in this State, are hereance, and shall be subject to the inspection and supervision of the State Corporation Commission through said bureau.

"2. The said bureau shall be known as the "Bureau of Insurance of Virsinal and its other officer, shall, be as the Bureau of Insurance of Vir-ginia, and its chief officer shall be known as the Commissioner of In-surance, whose term of office shall be four years. The office of the Com-missioner of Insurance shall be lo-surance, whose term of office shall, be four years. The office of the Commissioner of Insurance shall, be located in the city of Richmond, and the State Corporation Commission shall assign to him suitable offices for conducting the business of the said bureau.

"3. The Commissioner of Insurance shall be elected by the joint vote of the two houses of the General Assembly, and he shall held office until his successor is duly elected, commissioned and qualified, unless sooner removed for cause, as hereinafter in this chapter provided. The said Commissioner of Insurance provided for hereunder shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, qualify before the State Corporation Commission by taking the orths required by the Constitution and the laws of this State, and shall give bond in the penalty of ten thousand dollars, in such form and with such security as shall be approved by the State Corporation Commission conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. The said caths and bond shall be filed in the office of the State Corporation Commission and recorded on the minutes of its proceedings. The first Commissioner of Insurance under this and shall be elected by the joint vote of the two houses of the present General Assembly, and his successor in office shall be elected by the joint vote of the two houses of the General Assembly, and his successor in office shall be cleated by the joint vote of the two houses of the General Assembly, and his successor in office shall be cleated by the joint vote of the two houses of the General Assembly in the month of January nineteen hundred and ten, and in the month of January nineteen hundred and ten, and in the month of January nineteen hundred and ten, and in the month of January nineteen hundred and ten and in the month of January nineteen hundred and ten and in the month of January nineteen hundred and ten and in the month of January nineteen hundred and ten and in the month of January nineteen hundred and ten and in the month of January nineteen hundred month of January every four years thereafter."

"The Commissioner of Insurance, herein provided for shall appoint a deputy, who shall be subject to removal at pleasure by the commissioner, and who shall possess all the powers and perform all the duties attached by law to the office of commissioner during a vacancy in such office, and during the absence, inability or susponsion of his principal. The commissioner shall be responsible for the acts of his deputy, fix his salary, and require him to perform the duties of chief clork of the department. The deputy shall, before antering upon the duties of his office, take the gath prescribed in this section, and the commissioner may require him to execute a band, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, in the sum of five thousand dollars. The Commissioner of Insurance shall appoint such other clarical force as may be found necessary for the proper execution of the work of his Bureau of Insurance. In case of watency in the offices of both the Commissioner of Insurance and Tof his deput during the recess or the General Assembly, because of death, resignation or removal from office, or for othe cause, the State Corporation Commission shall appoint some person to fill such vacancy in the office of Commissioner of Insurance. Such appointee shall hold office under the said appointment until thirty days after the convening of the General Assembly, sither in extra or regular session, and until the vacancy shall be filled by the joint vote of the two houses of the General Assembly, and the successor of such appointee shall have been daily commissioner shall commence on the first commissioner shall commence on the first day of July 1906, and it contains comprehensive regulations for public supervision and control of all classes of insurance companies, covering fifty pages in the printed statutes. the general assembly under the got above of the third section of the act above quoted, to take office on the first day of July next.

"This section requires that before entering upon the discharge of his duties, the commissioner shall qualify before the state corporation commission, by taking the onlier required by the bonstitution and the laws of this State, and by giving blood in the penalty of ten theusand dollars in such form and with such security as shall be approved by the commission, "In connection with the election and qualification of the commission for the commission of the commission we respectfully ask your attention to certain provisions of the organic law of the State relating to the greative, powers and duties of the state corporation commission. Section 155 of the Constitution of Virginia, which provides for the creation of the commission, contains the following in relation to the appointment of its officers, and to the establishment of a bureau of insurance within its department:

"The commission shall assembly elections of their members chairman of the same and shall have one clerk, one ballift and subordinates as may be provided by law, all of whom shall be appointed, and subject to removal, by the commission. It shall prescribe its own rules of order and procedure, except so far as the same are specified in this constitution or any amondment thereof. The general assembly may establish within the department, and subject to the appreciation of the business of that repartment."

Would Be Void.

"If the commissioner of insurance under the recent statute is one of the officers provided by law in addition to those mentioned by their title in the constitution, and is therefore to be appointed by the commission, those portions of the statute, providing for the election of this of the statute, providing for the election of this of the commission. The general assembly, would seem to be in violation of the constitution and void.

These provisions of the organic law of the State make it a matter of grave doubt the siste make it a matter of grave dotter whether the general assembly is empow-ered to provide by law for the election of the officer denominated in the statute under consideration as the commissioner of insurance, otherwise than by appoint-ment by the state corporation commission. SONG OF THE OLD ROVER.

By BOBERT DUTHIE.

I'm afloat, I'm afloat on the wild sea waves,
And the tempest around me is swelling;
The winds have come forth from their ice ribb'd caves,
And the waves from their rocky dwelling;
But my trim built bark
O'er the waters dark
Bounds lightly along,
And the mermaid lists to my echoing sons.
Hurrah! hurrah! how I love to lave
In the briny spray of the wild sea wave!

I'm afloat, I'm afloat on the foaming deep,
And the storm bird above me is screaming;
While forth from the cloud where the thunders sleep
The lightning is fearfully gleaming;
But onward I dash,
For the fitful flash
Illumes me along,
And the thunders chorus my echoing song.
Hurrahl hurrahl how I love to brave
The dangers that frown on the wild see wave!

I'm afleat, I'm afloat, where my well served shot
Lays the war dogs bleeding around me;
But ne'er do I yield on the tentions field
Till the wreath of the victory has crown'd me;
Then I, a true child
Of the ocean wild,
With a tuneful tongue
Bear away with my nrize and my conquering song,
Hurrah! hurrah! shot and storm, ist them rave—
I'm at home, dashing on through the wild see wave!

The home of the hurrying billow; But the time is at hand when no longer I'll roam,

But the time is at hand when no inner 111 roam.

But in peace lay me down on its pillow;

The petrel will acream

My requiem hymn,

And the thunders prolong

The deep chorus'd note of my last echo'd song,

As I sink to repose in my rock-bound grave

That is down in the depths of the wild sea wave.

at the inauguration of this important enactment extending the supervising power of the State government over insurance companies, a cloud should rest upon the title of the officer in charge of the department, and a doubt remain as to the validity of his acts. Many of the acts to be taken by the commissioner of insurance are necessarily the acts of the state corporation commissions, through the state corporation pommission, through the state corporation pommission.
